PRACTICAL MATTERS AT THE STATE COLLEGE FARM.

THE NEW BARN.

Whoever has visited the farm of the State College at Orono, has had occasion to notice the shabby and dilapidated condition of the barns which have heretofore disfigured the grounds of the Institution; some visitors going so far as to pronounce them a "disgrace to the farm and the State." The Trustees have been aware of this, but until the accommodations for the students, and the needed means and apparatus for instruction had been furnished, they felt as though the old barns must serve a few years longer. A year ago last winter, however, they asked for an appropriation for the purpose of building a new barn, work upon which was begun last season, the structure erected and the outside covered in before the approach of cold weather. This spring the work of completing the interior was entered upon and the building is now nearly finished. Having visited the college farm and examined the barn one day last week, some description of it may not be uninteresting

The barn is 50 by 100 feet, 25 feet posted, with a cellar under the whole. A floor fourteen feet in width runs through the centre of the barn, there being good and substantial drive ways approaching it at each end. Entering at the west end the tie-up for cattle runs the entire length of the south side affording accommodations for twenty-six head. In the rear of the cattle, in one-half the tie-up, are to be pens for calves, and in the other bins for saw dust which is to be used as bedding. A pump and watering-trough in the west end of the tie-up will afford means for watering the stock—the door in this end being wide enough for a team and cart to enter. The mangers are made of birch, the front of the tie-up being provided with doors which open up and down, closing the front entirely when both are shut, the lower one forming a crib when it is half open. On the left of the main floor, or the north side of the barn, the space is devoted to separate objects. First is a wide passage; then a room, which is to be fitted up for the purpose, will furnish quarters in which the man having charge of the barn will sleep; next a room, open on the side towards the floor, for the storage of mowing machines and farm implements; next are stairs leading to the cellar, and from out a large room designed as a hospital, stairs ascending to the scaffold above; next five stalls for bulls, scale room, and hospital quarters—This takes up the first floor, the hay and grain all being stowed above—no bay, proper, finding a place in the barn. All the interior is fin shed with planed spruce, and will receive a dressing of two coats of oil.

Good attention has been paid to the matter of ventilation, the provision for which is very good. The roof is surmounted by two large cupolas to which a good stair-way leads; and the cellar, tie up, and in fact every part of the barn is amply ventilated by means of four ventilators on each side, each four feet by twenty inches in size. These ventilators have openings under the eaves of the barn, the openings being protected by screens of strong wire netting, the several apartments being ventilated by means of openings into these air-shafts which may be closed or kept open at pleasure. The floor of the cellar is to be cemented, and provided with a cistern of 500 hhds. capacity, to be filled with water from the roof. Two drive-ways into the cellar from the south side are provided; and the building is clapboarded and painted, with the roof slated in a most superior manner. The barn is now ready for the storage of hay, and all the stock on the farm will be removed to it on approach of the foddering season. Altogether it is a grand structure, one every way adapted to the needs of the institution, but no better than is required, and one which is also a credit to the College Farm, and an honor to the State. Its entire cost will be about $3,000. Mr. A. J. Flanders of Garland has had charge of its construction. This barn was dedicated on the afternoon of our visit, but it was impossible for us to remain to the exercises—which judging from the account given elsewhere, must have been of an interesting nature.

THE STOCK ON THE FARM.

like the barns in which they were kept, has heretofore been a standing disgrace to the Institution, being mostly grade and native animals of very ordinary quality. Recognizing the importance of having better animals upon the farm, the last Legislature made an appropriation of $1,400 for the purchase of thoroughbred animals, and the most of this has been already expended under the direction of the Farm Superintendent, Mr. Farrington.—This purchase comprises three Shorthorns, three Ayrshires and three Jerseys. Two or three full blood calves have been dropped since the stock reached the farm, and in a very few years the neat stock at the barn, like the building itself, will be highly creditable to the College and the State. We should add that in addition to the neat stock, there are upon the farm two pairs of superior work horses the like of which are seldom met with in Maine. The stock is all looking well.

HAYING AND THE CROPS.

Mr. Farrington has just commenced haying and had struck into a new piece of grass, laid down a year ago, which would probably cut two tons to the acre. The grass on the farm generally looks very well, and the ent will probably exceed one hundred tons. The crops are rather backward as they are everywhere this season. Mr. Farrington has instituted some experiments in the drilling and broadcast sowing of wheat, which promises very interesting results. A drill which was used for sowing the grain has been used with good results in the planting of beans, fodder corn and the sowing of fertilizers; all who have an interest in the College will be glad to know that the farm is gradually being supplied with first class agricultural implements of the most approved patterns, and adapted for doing all kinds of work.

A LOOK ABOUT THE COLLEGE BUILDINGS.

After dinner, in company with President Allen, we took a look about the grounds and college buildings. The students, who attend recitations in the forenoon, reported to Mr. Farrington for manual labor at 1 o'clock, and were by him directed in the work for the afternoon. Most of them were engaged about the new barn, where drive-ways were being constructed, although some were employed in grading the grounds in front of the President's house. A section of the Sophomore class were engaged in surveying a portion of one of the fields, and another section were at work at mechanical drawing under Prof. Pike, in the large recitation room. In one of the lecture rooms we examined with much satisfaction some very fine crayon drawings of large size of fossil animals, the same being used to illustrate the lectures of Prof. C. H. Fernald. These drawings were the work of Mrs. C. H. Fernald, and reflect great credit upon her skill in this direction—the drawings having been enlarged to a proper scale from smaller figures. The cabinet has been greatly enlarged within the past year, and the philosophical and engineering apparatus has also been much extended. A very steady ... through the buildings and lecture rooms ... thoroughly practical training given at this college ... the ... of the State ... professional men and business men, would visit it for themselves, and become acquainted from actual examination with what it has done and is doing in giving our young men scientific and practical training, at a little more than the cost of board, and allowing them to pay a portion of this by working with their own hands.—[Maine Farmer.

BRET HARTE IN COURT.—A motion was argued in the supreme court chambers, New York, before Judge Lawrence, on the 26th of January last, for an injunction on behalf of Mr. Bret Harte, to restrain R. M. De Witt from publishing a book, the authorship of which was attributed to Mr. Harte. It appeared that the defendant had published four chapters of a story written by Mr Harte about ten years ago, and that the remaining ones, making up the volume were written by some unknown person. To the whole story Mr Bret Harte's name was prefixed, and at the end of his portion of the work appeared an explanatory note. An injunction, granted on this statement of facts, was ordered to be continued by Judge Lawrence, on Friday, who renders the following decision: "I think that the plaintiff has such an interest in his name and reputation as an author as entitles him to invoke the aid of a court of equity in restraining the defendant from falsely representing that a literary production published and sold by the defendant is the work of the plaintiff. On the papers it seems to me that the act of the defendant is calculated to mislead the public, and to induce the purchase of the work referred to in the complaint, under the impression that the same was wholly written by the plaintiff. The case seems to me to be analogous to that of a trade-mark. The principles upon which relief is granted in such cases is, that the defendant shall not be permitted by the adoption of a trade-mark which is untrue or deceptive to sell his own goods as those of the plaintiff, thus injuring the defendant and defrauding the public.—Newman vs. Alvord, 51 N. Y., 189. Now in this case the general public would, it seems to me, be misled, from the title-page of the book in question, into supposing that the whole of the book was the production of the plaintiff, and certain facts seem very strongly to point to the conclusion that it was the design of the defendant to thus mislead the public.—There would have been no difficulty in printing the note, which is to be found upon page 84 of the book, upon the title-page, where it could be seen and read by every one applying to purchase the book. The fact that the note does not appear upon the title-page where it would be likely to be seen by the party intending to purchase, coupled with the fact that the title page represents, or certainly conveys the impression, that the whole book was written by the plaintiff, some of whose other works are also there referred to, is pretty conclusive evidence that the defendant intended to mislead every person who should become a purchaser of the book into the belief that the same was the exclusive production of the plaintiff. I think it no answer to these observations to say that every one who reads the book must necessarily read the note at page 84. That note is better calculated to call the attention of the purchaser to the fact that he has been deceived than to prevent his deception. It is not likely to be read until the wrong has been done, i. e., until the book has been sold. Entertaining these views, I shall direct that an order be entered continuing the injunction until the case can be tried. Plaintiff to have $10 costs of motion."

The horse belonged to Mr. Hilton of Norridgewock

The stores of G. L. King and Wm. Arnold of Monmouth Center, were broken into Wednesday night. Mr. Arnold lost some $75 in clothes and change; Mr. King had taken some $30 in boots and money. The thieves are supposed to be two persons who were seen about the village and vicinity Wednesday. Means have been taken to secure the robbers.

Monday night the store of Dwelly, Moore & Co., at Barker's Mills, was broken into.—The fellows who did the work went through the store thoroughly, taking all the cash from the drawer and cleaned out all the cigars and tobacco. They then took a quantity of eggs and crackers, went a little distance up river where they kindled a fire, cooked their eggs and had a supper.

Monday morning while Mr. Shepherd Bucknam, of Lebanon, was going toward Buckfield, when his horse seemingly became unmanageable and ran furiously along the road until he came to near the Proctor bridge spanning the Twenty Mile river, at a point one mile distant from Lebanon, where he suddenly turned to the right against the railing of the bridge, crushing it over, and allowing horse and rider to fall a distance of twenty feet upon the sharp rocks and into the water beyond. The current carried the man into deep water, where he immediately sank, stunned from the effects of his fall. The horse was carried some yards down stream, where he reached the shore. A large number of citizens soon gathered, and commenced a search for the body. His pocket-book and hat were discovered some distance down the stream among the bushes. The stream was dragged until 2 p. m. when the body was brought to the surface.

Thus far seven persons are known to have perished in the Chicago fire. The destitute are being cared for, and rebuilding has already commenced. Contracts have been made for many fine structures to replace those destroyed.

There was no report from twenty five charges, as the pastors were not present.

Pere Hyacinthe seems to be taking root in Geneva and introducing into his parish a spirit of moderation which cannot but win for him the respect of thoughtful and fair-minded people everywhere. He is shunning the extremes to which ardent reformers tend, and in some respects he is following our American ideas of civil and religious liberty. Thus, he favors the choice of pastors by the people, yet he claims for the clergy the right of regular ordination by their own body, with Christian sanctions. He denies the right of his church to control the state without the surrendering to the state the control of the church. He denies the infallibility of the Pope, yet he does not try to put Roman Catholics out of the pale of fellowship, but affirms for them and for the Roman church an important place in Christendom. Appearances indicate that American ideas are to have more power than ever in Europe, and especially in Switzerland.

Fraud Loves a Shining Mark.
A great medicine is always a target for fraud. Shallow cheats without the talent to originate anything useful, or the energy to produce an article of superior excellence to perform its mission, without striving to find a fresh nest penny by attempting to substitute trash in its place, are now engaged in imitating and counterfeiting Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the most popular tonic and restorative in the civilized world. A flood of local bitters mixtures of damaged drugs with worse liquor, has cropped out all over the country. Although the sales of these pernicious slops are too insignificant to affect the interests of a staple remedy, it seems a duty to warn the public against them. The color of the true specific may be simulated, but its cures of dyspepsia, liver complaint, rheumatism, intermittent fever, constipation, nervous debility & ... cannot be imitated.

WHERE IS BUTLER?

For two or three weeks a familiar name has been strangely missing from the special despatches and editorial columns of the press, and we begin to wonder as to where Ben Butler can be and what possible mischief he is at. He must feel lonely himself to read the papers for a whole week without once finding a mention in pages that used to bristle with his initials, and we think it quite time to make some inquiry for the missing statesman. To be sure, we have had Butler in such numerous and stiff doses for several years past that there is a sense of relief in temporarily losing sight of him, but the trouble is that Ben is one of those boys who are apt to be most mischievous when apparently most quiet, and while he is invisible there is a painful feeling of apprehension as to where and in what shape he will turn up next.

About the last that we heard of Bold Ben [illegible] was when he pitched into Congress for smashing his moiety and Sanborn machinery, and we have a faint recollection that during the vigorous debate he pronounced his own eulogy, and that Foster of Ohio and one or two others made it rather warm for the Essex statesman. Since then we have heard intimations of a foreign tour but thus far the President has not discovered a sphere for his usefulness abroad, and as the General is one of the busy Briths public would like to know whether he is loading another powder ship and if so whether he proposes to explode it in the soil of the Commonwealth or under the nose of the Czar of all the Russias.

We have grumbled considerably at Butler, and he has caused us in common with Republicans generally, a great deal of trouble; but we really can't get along quite easy without knowing something of his whereabouts and occupation, since experience shows that he is very apt to be industrious and may tumble into the arena at any moment from some unexpected quarter. If he has gone off with Mark Twain in the Comet, we want to know it, and the N. Y. Herald ought to be able to inform us. It he is missing it is high time for Stanley to fit out an expedition of discovery as I write a book about it. After having butter served with our morning coffee, dished up with the dinner vegetables, and brought in in cold slices with our tea, the sudden change of diet is too radical for the season, and the public appetite craves at least enough of B. B. to give a familiar flavor to the soup.

We think the Boston papers are culpably remiss in this matter. If the Ogre of Pemberton square is silently gobbling up unwary members of the "blue blooded aristocracy," the public ought to be informed on the subject, and if he is casting a hungry eye at the State House and its dried Codfish, there should be a prompt sounding of the alarm. We are anxious on the subject of Butler, and wish some one would inform us where he is passing the heated term and where he proposes to land in the Fall campaign.

Harper's Weekly says of the declaration of the Maine Democrats for absolute Free Trade "that they were evidently more intent upon a platform to fight upon than to win upon, and we want to hear the Maine or any other Democratic Convention resolve that it is in favor of [illegible] the revenue by direct taxes," and we expect to wait for some time.

The Philadelphia Ledger reports indications of a rapid and general revival in the iron trade. The furnaces and rolling mills are beginning to receive large orders for the fall, and the present indications are that the Pennsylvania iron business, which has been almost completely stagnant for some time, will soon be fairly active again.

THE OHIO REPUBLICANS. The Republican State Central Committee and a number of prominent Republicans from the various portions of the State, met at Columbus Thursday for consultation. Senator Sherman and Congressmen Garfield, Foster, Sherwood, Bundy Lawrence and ex Gov. Noyes were among those present, and made short speeches favoring an earnest and active campaign. The point of the speeches was that the issues to be presented were purely National, and, as there was no Legislature to elect this fall, the question of temperance could not legitimately come into the canvass. The 3d of September was fixed as the time for holding the State Convention.

The Chicago Times publishes the report of an interview with Victoria Woodhull, in which that not excessively modest female states that, for three months, Theodore Tilton and herself were so mutually devoted that they "were hardly ever out of each other's sight," and that he rarely left her house, adding, sympathetically, that "Theodore was then estranged from his wife and undergoing all the agonies of the torture inflicted upon him by the treachery of his friend, Mr Beecher." The creature also says that it was during this period of intimacy that Tilton related his domestic griefs, and wrote the notorious biography of herself. And is this the foul nest in which the scandal against Mr Beecher has been nurtured?

Jonathan Walker, and old time Abolitionist, who had his hand branded "S. S." for protecting runaway slaves, is now living near Detroit. He is 77 years old, and supports himself by cultivating a fruit farm. He was born in Massachusetts, and entered early into the plans of Lundy and other Abolitionists for the liberation of slaves. He was arrested while on a vessel which was taking several runaway slaves to a colony at the mouth of the Rio Grande, and having been convicted of slave stealing, the letters signifying that offense were burned into his hand. The sentence was executed at Pensacola by the Marshal, Ebenezer Dorr, a native of Rhode Island.

The first five resolutions of the Democracy of Indiana do not emit a very audible "metallic ring," but on the contrary place the party squarely upon the Pendleton repudiation platform. Here they are:

"Resolved, First: That we are in favor of the redemption of five-twenty bonds a greenbacks according to the law under which they were issued.

Second. We are in favor of the repeal of the law of March, 1869, which assumed to construe the law so as to make such bonds payable exclusively in gold.

Third: We are in favor of the repeal of the National Banking law and the substitution of greenbacks for the National bank currency.

Fourth: We are in favor of a return to specie payment as soon as the business interests of the country will permit.

Fifth: We are in favor of such legislation from time to time as will adjust the volume of the currency to the commercial and industrial wants of the country.

RAILROAD NEGOTIATIONS. The Portland Press says: "Negotiations are pending, we know not with what probability of a successful result, looking to an arrangement between the Eastern, Maine Central and Boston & Maine railroads, by which the latter will be placed, so far as its traffic is concerned, on the same footing with reference to the Maine Central as the Eastern. This will end the war and injure the ticket business."

A $500 COUNTERFEIT. The five hundred dollar counterfeit recently discovered at the Treasurer's office in Washington was a counterfeit of the United States note of that denomination. Only two such notes thus far have been discovered, the first a year ago. There are no counterfeits on the National bank notes of that denomination.

The Portland Press intimates that the Government officers at the granite works in this vicinity are devoting their time improperly to politics. We do not believe there is any just reason for the complaint. These gentlemen have apparently been as attentive to business as usual. But we observe that a correspondent of the BANGOR WHIG says employes of the Portland Custom House were on duty at the County Convention in Oxford county, looking after the interests of their patron, (Mr. Washburn) and the Press utters no reproof.—[Rockland Free Press.

BISMARCK. Every right minded person will rejoice that Bismarck has been preserved from the bullet of a would-be assassin. The great German has yet undoubtedly a great work to do in the world, and although he may measure his strength with the Papacy, no Catholic could desire to see him withdrawn from the arena by any such means as that attempted by the fanatic Kullman. This is the second time the Prince's life has been threatened. In 1866, just before the beginning of the war between Prussia and Austria, a young visionary, said to have been insane attempted to shoot him while he was walking on the Unter den Linden in Berlin, on his way home from an interview with King William. If the attempt had been successful, the history of Europe for the last eventful eight years would be strangely different from what it has been. Although less is dependent upon Bismarck now, he is altogether too important, effective and useful a personage not to live out his full time.—[Boston Journal.

RIGHT, LEFT AND CENTRE. Many who read reports of proceedings in the French Assembly are puzzled when despatches are talking about the Left, the Right, the Right Centre and the Left Centre. By reference to the following explanation they may be able to acquire some knowledge of French parties.

The Left is composed of the Republicans, of whom Leon Gambetta and Jules Favre are leaders. The Extreme Left is Radical Republican or Communist. The Left Centre is made up of the Conservative Republicans—the men who are willing to accept a republic as the practicable form of government. Thiers and Casimir Periere are leaders in this branch of the Assembly. The Right is composed of the Legitimists or Bourbons—the ultra divine right, white flag Chambord Monarchists. The Right Centre represents the Conservative Monarchists, or Orleanists, who favor a Constitutional Monarchy of the conservative type. The Bonapartists are generally classified with the Right, but there are only about forty-five or fifty of them. The deputies comprising the Assembly number 738, 721 of whom are elected in France, and 15 in the French colonies.

THE CHICAGO FIRE. Mayor Cobb of Boston has received the following answer to his despatch offering relief to Chicago:—

To His Honor Samuel C. Cobb, Mayor of Boston:

The people of Chicago will always remember and be grateful for the kind feelings and kinder acts of Boston and her citizens. The fire of Tuesday causes no suffering beyond our means to relieve, or that would justify the acceptance of aid from abroad. The damage to property is greater in appearance than in reality. There has been no serious injury to any important interest. It is probable that a thorough revision of the fire ordinances and reorganization of the fire department will prevent such fires hereafter. Accept our thanks for your sympathy and friendly offer of assistance.

H. D. COLVIN,
Mayor of Chicago

The United States Treasurer has decided that the National Banks will be permitted to make good the amounts charged to the five per cent. fund for the redemption of their notes by remittances of National Bank notes, thus saving the expense of remitting legal tender notes from the Treasury Department in return for the bank notes redeemed and of the return of legal tenders by the banks to make good the five per cent. fund. The first deposit of five per cents must, however, be made in legal tenders in all cases.

The Carlists have abandoned the siege of Puycerda after the repulse of a second assault.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL

Ex Mayor Walter Lenox, of Washington, died Thursday, aged 57 years.

Hon A. C. Harmon has been declared the Republican nominee of the Fifth Pennsylvania Congressional District.

The last "third termist" is ex Gov. Herbert, of Louisiana, but he says nothing of consequence about the matter.

Ex Mayor Joseph Medill, of Chicago, who is now in Europe, is mentioned as a candidate for Congress in the First Illinois District.

The Republicans of Michigan have decided to renominate Gov. Bagley at their convention on Aug 26. They are confident of re-electing him, notwithstanding the independent movement.

Lewis Clephane, Collector of Taxes for the District of Columbia, having resigned, the Commissioners appointed to that position John F. Cook, (colored), who, for several years past has held the office of Register.

Speaking of the New York Governorship, the Utica Herald says that Governor Dix is far stronger to-day than he was two years ago. The probabilities of a successful contest against him is far less than it was then.

The Washington correspondent of the Chicago Times, after showing that, of all the men who wintered in Washington, Speaker Blaine built himself no enemies, and made troops of friends, writes: "I have an abiding faith in James G. Blaine's ability to harvest anything he desires—Senatorial grapes or the Presidential pippin."

The New York Times says "One of the Albany lobbyists is said to be worth $400,000; another has made at least $300,000 in the course of a few years, and there is nothing to prevent him doubling it, unless we undertake to expose him throughout each session of the Legislature. And this we certainly intend to do."

The Philadelphia Democratic Convention met on Tuesday in the various Congressional Districts. In the First District Gen. William McCandless was nominated on the first ballot. In the Second District no quorum appeared. In the Third, Samuel J. Randall was nominated by acclamation. In the Fourth, the convention adjourned till August without making a nomination.

Concerning the rumored complication between Treasurer Spinner and the Treasury Department, it is stated that he has written a letter to the President containing his views relative to the management of the Bureau. It is known the General has uniformly taken the ground that, as he is pecuniarily responsible for its transactions, and has given a heavy bond, the appointment of his subordinates should be controlled by himself, irrespective of the application of the Civil Service rules to his Bureau.

Pulmonic Syrup, Sea Weed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills.

These medicines have undoubtedly performed more cures of Consumption than any other remedy known to the American public. They are compounded of vegetable ingredients, and contain nothing which can be injurious to the human constitution.

Other remedies advertised as cures for Consumption, probably contain opium, which is a somewhat dangerous drug in all cases, and if taken freely by consumptive patients it must do great injury; for its tendency is to confine the morbid matter in the system, which, of course, must make a cure impossible.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is warranted not to contain a particle of opium. It is composed of powerful but harmless herbs, which act on the lungs, liver stomach and blood, and thus correct all morbid secretions, and expel all the diseased matter from the body. These are the only means by which Consumption can be cured, and as Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Sea Weed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills are the only medicines which operate in this way, it is obvious they are the only genuine cure for Pulmonary Consumption. Each bottle of this invaluable medicine is accompanied by full directions.

Dr. Schenck is professionally at his principal office, corner Sixth and Arch Streets, Philadelphia, every Monday, and at the Quincy House, Boston, on the following Wednesdays, June 10th and 24th, July 8th and 22d, and August 5th and 19th.

FROM ROCKLAND
MISSING MAN FOUND DEAD.

ROCKLAND, July 17 Mr. Eben Alden, a well known resident of this city, about sixty years of age, left his home Wednesday morning, but, not returning, his family became alarmed at his absence, and inquiry was made for him in various directions. He was last seen alive and spoken with by persons who knew him, on the Camden road, at the north end of the city, Wednesday forenoon. By the conclusion was generally reached that he must have wandered off while suffering from ill health and mental depression to some spot in the vicinity of Jameson's Point [illegible], and died there. Accordingly, a party was organized this afternoon to search that vicinity, and, at about half past three o'clock Mr Alden's body was found in a field just in the north of the cemetery. The body was delivered to the family, and a careful examination showing no indications of violence of any kind, an inquest was deemed unnecessary

THE BEECHER TILTON MYSTERY.
SEPARATION OF MR. AND MRS. TILTON

NEW YORK, July 17 The latest in the [illegible] affair is as follows

[illegible] papers are being drawn up for a legal separation between Mr and Mrs Tilton. [illegible] residence in Livingston street is to be [illegible] Mrs. Tilton, and the children will [illegible] placed in her custody. The separation will be by mutual consent, and the [illegible] of a divorce suit, with all its annoyances will therefore be avoided. Until the [illegible] arrangements are completed, Mrs. Tilton will remain with her friends, the family of Mr [illegible]

MORE RUMORS.

Mr Beecher, who has been in this city since Tuesday, returned to Peekskill yesterday. Beecher is known to have been at the residence of Frank J Moulton, two evenings [illegible] in consultation It is believed that the interview was as to how a compromise with [illegible] could be brought about, but Moulton was not authorized to make any compromise for Tilton.

MOULTON JUSTIFIES TILTON

A significant fact in connection with the [illegible] is, a prominent newspaper man asked M[oulton] if it would not be well to deny that Tilton ever made any confession in connection with the apology to Tilton, when Moulton said it would be very injudicious to print a denial, and intimated that when the [illegible] should be printed, Tilton's course will be fully justified.

MR BEECHER'S STATEMENT—A STRAIGHT FORWARD STORY—AN EXPLICIT DENIAL OF ALL THE SLANDERS

The Brooklyn Eagle says "Mr Beecher's statement, although not yet officially before the Committee, is in the hands of his friends, and it will be submitted as soon as Mr Tilton's is put in The gentlemen who have seen it speak of it as a frank, straightforward, manly document Mr Beecher addresses himself in detail to the Tilton case, explains the nature of the trouble with Mr Tilton, denies that he ever made impure intimations to Mrs. Tilton, and concludes with an

of all the other slanders which have been set afloat against him.

He acknowledges that Mrs. Tilton complained to him of her husband, that she spoke of his infidelity, and cited instances, spoke of his going with strange women, and proved that her statement was true, and finally begged him (Beecher) to advise her as a man and as a minister what to do. Mr Beecher after long deliberation and considerable hesitancy, advised her, if she could not [illegible] her husband, to leave him

THE APOLOGY.

After a time Mr Beecher felt that he had made a mistake in giving this advice. He thought, perhaps, if left to the impulses of his [illegible] generous nature, Mr Tilton would have abandoned the strange woman after whom he had been running, and return to the peace of his own household In this condition of mind he apologized to Mr. Tilton for what he had done, promised to extend to him the right hand of fellowship in the future, and to bury the past utterly.

TILTON DODGING THE ISSUE—HE MAKES A GENERAL ASSAULT UPON BEECHER.

Tilton's forthcoming statement will, it is said, disappoint the public greatly. It was expected that he would undertake to prove that Mr Beecher had done him grave personal injury, and that he would specify that wrong, and adduce evidence of its reality Now it is understood that he has resolved to be reticent in regard to his own family, but will go into the general scandal. In other words, he will attempt to show that Beecher outraged, not the Tiltons, but some other household He reasons in this way.

"My proposition is that Beecher is not a fit man to occupy a Christian pulpit. What Beecher has done to me is my own affair.—The public interest is properly in my main proposition and in support of it I submit the following statement," etc. This document, there is good reason for stating, will effect the character of two other women besides Mrs. Tilton.

There was another meeting of the investigating committee last night. There were no reporters admitted and therefore, of course, there is no detailed report. As stated above, however, the case is now practically closed.

ANOTHER STORY—REPORT THAT MR. BEECHER'S STATEMENT WAS WITHHELD.

The Argus says that the friend to whom the statement was submitted read it carefully and then returned it to Mr. Beecher, saying to him "I advise you not to present that paper to the committee." Mr. Beecher asking the reason of such advice, the reply was "Because Tilton's statement will shiver it to pieces"; that on further consultation and a comparison of views, Mr. Beecher determined to follow the advice of his friend; that accordingly Mr. Beecher's statement was not presented to the committee last night; that instead of a statement Mr. Beecher sent a note to the committee last evening in which he announced he had not prepared any evidence to submit to that body.

It is fully reported the committee are now engaged in debating the point whether Mr. Tilton shall or shall not be called to testify.

SARATOGA.
THE RACE AGAIN POSTPONED.

SARATOGA, July 17 The morning broke brightly and calmly, reports from the lake were promising, and, up to 2 P. M., there was every probability that the race would be rowed This sent large numbers out to the lake. At 5 P M, the word came up the lake from the starting point that the water there was growing smoother hourly, and the prospect for a start was good. At ten minutes past 6 o'clock, the first gun was fired at the foot of the lake, which was greeted with cheers by the immense crowd At 6 20 the second gun was fired, and in five minutes more the third gun was heard. At 7 22 the fourth discharge was heard, which was thought to be the signal for taking positions From that time until 8.30 o'clock, nothing was seen or heard from the starting point. It then became so dark that it was evident that another postponement had to take place, which was the fact Word was brought that the race would be rowed as soon as the water was smooth enough, which was rather vague. The crowd then deliberately and with the greatest good humor, amid singing by the Collegians and others, dispersed. The sum of $2,000 was subscribed and presented to the Wesleyan crew to-day.

IOWA
CONGRESSIONAL NOMINATION.

CHICAGO, July 17. A special despatch to the Tribune says that the Republican Congressional Convention of the Sixth District in Iowa nominated Judge E. Sampson, of Keokuk county, on the second ballot.

OHIO.
A DENIAL FROM GEN. GARFIELD.

CLEVELAND, July 17 The Leader publishes an article denying, upon the authority of General Garfield, the story that his private secretary had been paid on the rolls of the House of Representatives without performing any public duty. Garfield says that his private correspondence has not been at the public expense, whatever aid of this kind he has had has been paid for out of his own pocket.

WISCONSIN
THE CROPS.

MILWAUKEE, July 17. The Sentinel publishes advices from thirty counties in this State showing the condition of the crops. With reference to the wheat crop it appears that there is a belt extending through Green Rock and Jefferson counties, where the heads have not filled at all owing to the drouth. The same state of things appears in parts of Juneau, Adams, Jackson, Buffalo and Pierce. Elsewhere the yield ranges from an average to considerable above it. The average of oats is fair, the crop being short only in a few places. Barley is light, but rye is an average yield. Winter wheat is already harvested and is generally good. There is a good yield of hay.

NEW HAMPSHIRE
SUDDEN DEATH WHILE RIDING

CONCORD, N H, July 17. Benning W Sanborn, a prominent business man of this city, died in his carriage this morning while on his way to see a brother in Deerfield, where he was going to stay during the summer. He was within a mile of his destination when his death occurred. He had been afflicted with dropsy and heart disease for a year and a half. He was 51 years of age and a single man.

ATTEMPT TO WRECK A TRAIN.

An attempt was made to throw the evening express passenger train from the track by placing sleepers thereon by some persons unknown, Tuesday night. It was discovered in time to prevent an accident.

ROBBERY.

Geo H Flanders had $30 stolen from his pocket Wednesday night. James Frothingham is suspected and the police are looking for him in Fitchburg, Mass.

SUDDEN DEATH.

MANCHESTER, N. H, July 17. Elijah I. Watson, Assistant Superintendent of the Concord Railroad, was taken suddenly ill about half-past one o'clock, this afternoon, while eating dinner at the dining saloon of H D. Corliss, and died within three minutes. It was at first supposed that a piece of tripe lodged in his throat, choking him to death, but the doctors now pronounce it a case of paralysis.

WASHINGTON.
GENERALITIES.

WASHINGTON, July 17. The Congress arrived at Liberia, Monrovia, June 5. She expected to reach Gibraltar about the middle of July.

The examination of the young men who received permits to report for admission into the naval academy as cadet engineers, takes place on the 15th, 16th and 17th days of September. This will be a competitive examination, each candidate standing on his merits, and the best qualified will receive the appointment.

NATIONAL BANK NOTES.

In reply to various inquiries, Treasurer Spinner has issued a letter declaring that National Bank notes should not be canceled before being sent to him for redemption; that redeemed notes will be cancelled in the Treasurer's office; that National Bank notes will be received to make good the five per cent. redemption fund, but the first deposit of five per cents must be made in legal tender notes, any excess over the amount required to make good the five per cent. fund of the bank forwarding the same, will be remitted in legal tender notes forwarded from the Treasurer's office; the payment for the excess cannot be made in drafts that the Assistant Treasurers should receive, on account of transfers of deposits of such bank notes as are redeemable at their full face values at the Treasury Department.

THE INDIAN PEACE COMMISSION.

The Board of Indian Peace Commissioners met at the Interior Department to-day. There were present Messrs. Sibley, Fisk, Lang, Roberts and Smith. Messrs. Butler and Turvey were absent, and there are three vacancies not filled. An organization was effected by the election of Fisk as Chairman and Smith as Secretary. An Executive Committee was chosen, consisting of Messrs Smith, Roberts and Butler, and a purchasing committee, consisting of Messrs. Sibley, Butler, Turvey and Lang The Commissioners then made a formal official call on the Acting Secretary of the Interior and the Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

The Internal Revenue receipts to day were $333,238.

The Treasury of the United States to day received $704,538 in National Bank notes for redemption, making the total amount to date $6,165,203.

Gen. Sheridan has forwarded, through Sherman, a request to be allowed to use the Sixth Cavalry for offensive operations against the Indians, and advocating a generally offensive policy as more effective and economical than a defensive policy

MASSACHUSETTS.
FATAL ACCIDENTS.

SALEM, July 17. Daniel H. Hannon of Peabody, while bathing with a party of fellow-excursionists, yesterday, was drowned. He leaves a wife and four children.

BOSTON, July 17. While unloading the schooner Frank L. Mayor to day, Thomas McCloud, aged 40, was knocked into the hold by the bucket and killed. He leaves a wife and three children.

THUGS HELD FOR TRIAL.

LOWELL, July 17, Reddington and Mahoney, two of the ringleaders of the recent Sunday night riot in which several policemen were dangerously injured, were to-day held in $500 each for trial at the Superior Court. The officers have all recovered, and are on duty, though one was confined to his house more than a week.

CHICAGO.
FREIGHT RATES.

CHICAGO, July 17. At the meeting of General Superintendents and General Freight Agents of all railroads leading to the South-West, yesterday, it was decided not to pool the earnings, but to advance the present freight rates to Southwestern points 10 per cent. All opposition between the Companies is now obviated and high rates will be obtained.

THE FOREMOST OF LONDON PHYSICIANS. One of the foremost physicians in London at the present time, is Sir William Gull. A medical journal in London publishes the following in regard to him:—

"He was the son of a poor farmer—a laborer, who tilled a small plot of ground, the property of Guy's Hospital. He attracted the attention of the treasurer of the hospital as a bright lad, and was given a place as bottle washer in the drug room of the hospital. He was given the opportunity, also, to have some instruction, entered as student, graduated with honor, became house physician, assistant physician to the hospital, physician, and lastly consulting physician, his present place. These facts are well known, yet he is created a Baronet, and welcomed into their ranks by the most exclusive aristocracy on the globe. He is no common man, whatever may be said of him, who can carve out such a career for himself, and from a charity lad become the foremost physician of the greatest city of our modern civilization. Gull is said to be so closely occupied that patients have to make engagements days in advance of the time."

THE NEW BANKRUPT LAW. A Washington special contradicts the statement which has gained circulation that because the bill containing the revision of the laws passed the same day with the amended bankrupt act, the courts would find it difficult to deal with the amended law in connection with the bankrupt law enacted on this revision. There is no trouble on this account, as the bill for the revision contains a clause providing that it shall be considered as the first bill passed after, as meaning in [illegible] last, and all other acts passed at the session to be regarded as amendments to [illegible]

—Great demand for [illegible] bureaus.

—Warm, clear weather, yesterday.

—The click of the mower is heard in the land.

—Only one more week before Dog Days begin.

—Three unfortunates in the lockup last night.

—Temperance meeting this evening in City Hall.

—Door-step parties are very fashionable of evenings, lately.

—The roadway at the Bangor end of the toll-bridge is being replanked.

—We had a pleasant call yesterday from Col. Shaw of the Oxford Democrat.

—Several yachts with pleasure parties on board are on the way up the Penobscot.

—The Seventh Maine Regiment Association will hold a reunion at Portland, Sept. 17th, the anniversary of Antietam.

—The exhibition of the Sciopticon at the West Bangor Chapel for the benefit of the building fund was very successful.

—The new sewer connections at the intersection of Water and Broad sts. have been finished and the chimneys are at last good for something.

—Mackerel are now plenty on the coast of Maine. One hundred and fifty barrels were taken at one haul, near Squirrel Island, on Saturday last.

—Geo. B. Leavitt, Esq., a wealthy farmer of Newport, was thrown from his mowing machine yesterday morning, and three of his ribs broken.

—The work of blasting the ledge on York-st. slip for the branch sewer has commenced, and Exchange streeters think it thunders every hour or so.

—Blueberries have made their appearance and sell for something less than a cent apiece. The crop promises to be abundant, we are informed.

—Crowds of youngsters, and oldsters too, sport in the waters of the Penobscot daily, and the rafts and piers above the toll-bridge furnish capital landing places.

—The engine and boiler have been placed in the new steam ferry boat and it will probably commence its trips between this city and Brewer the first of next week.

—One of the young men arrested by Deputy Sheriff Bean for fast driving Thursday night was discharged after paying the owner of the team for damages, and the other was released.

—A movement is on foot for stocking Dexter Pond with black bass. It is said by those who ought to know about it, that the project is a feasible one. Quite a sum has been pledged for his purpose.

—Excursion tickets to the State camp-meeting at Richmond, Aug. 4th, will be sold at all the principal stations of the European & North American and Maine Central railroads and their branches.

—The police yesterday seized two kegs of liquor marked "T. O. S.", one marked "A. W." and three "H. M. Burnham, Oldtown"—in all 101 gallons—as it was landed from the steamer Katahdin yesterday.

—The Rockland Globe learns that the buoy on Drunken Ledge, west by north half south, about seven-eighths of a mile from Fiddlers' Ledge, south-west of Crabtree's Point, entrance to Fox Island thoroughfare, is gone.

—The formal "opening" for the season of the Wassumkeag Hotel at Fort Point will take place on Saturday, 25th inst., when considerable will be made to that place from this city, Bucksport, [illegible] and this street [illegible]

—The Hinckley & Egery Iron Co. have sold a new engine of some seventy horse power for the new steam mill at Houlton, and another of about forty horse power to be set up in Dr. Norris' slate quarry at Monson.

—A man too drunk to know who or where he was laid himself down to rest in the yard in front of F. A. Wilson's residence on State st., last evening Officer Fancy toted him to the lockup and took care of his team.

—All the Northern mails, including registered letters, due at Norfolk, Va., on the evening of the 9th inst., were destroyed by fire, and it is very likely that letters from this locality may have been among the matter burned.

—Our Calais correspondent writes that on Wednesday a child of W. D. Milliken, of St David, N. B., about two and a half years old, upset a kettle of boiling water on her chest, causing death in about twelve hours, though she suffered but little.

—John Bird Engine Co. of Rockland have accepted the challenge of the Gen. Berry Co. of the same city to play for $200 a side. The last named company while practicing Thursday evening made the extraordinary play of 223 feet 3 inches in a horizontal line.

—Officer D. L. Clark yesterday arrested one Moses Smith of Gardiner who was suspected of stealing some carpenter's tools from the Franklin House. Smith owned up, accompanied the officer to the place where he had pawned them and they were recovered

—The Directors of the Milo Cheese Factory find that at the rate they have been paying for milk—ten cents for eight pounds, at the farmers' doors—the establishment will lose from $2 50 to $2.75 per day, and they have decided to pay only a cent a pound for milk.

—We understand that the lumber in pens, stalls and fences on the Trotting Park, the property of the Maine State Agricultural Society, will be at once taken down and removed to Lewiston, to make accommodations for the coming State Fair which is to be held in that city.

—The First Maine Cavalry Association held a meeting in Portland Thursday evening, to make arrangements for their reunion in September, and blocked out the programme which will probably consist of a clambake at the islands in the morning and a banquet in the evening.

—No less than four blind men are soliciting charity in this city. That they are not in harmony is proved by the fact that one of them kindly offered to "knock the stuffing" out of another who came on Kenduskeag bridge, where he was stationed Competition is the life of business.

—The annual excursion of the Universalist Sunday School and their friends was made yesterday to Fort Point. It was largely attended and all had a capital time, the enjoyment of the party being much enhanced by the excellent music of the Bangor Cornet Band which accompanied them.

—We understand that the Managers of the Home for Aged Women are negotiating for the purchase of the fine residence of Major Chas. E. Dole, on Thomas' hill. The location is superb and the grounds extensive, and the buildings with slight alterations would be well adapted for the purposes of the institution.

—It is rumored that negotiations are pending, looking to an arrangement between the Eastern, Maine Central and Boston & Maine Railroads, by which the latter will be placed, so far as traffic is concerned, on the same footing with reference to the Maine Central as the Eastern. This will end the war and injure the ticket business.

—Two elegant Pullman sleeping cars, named respectively "Moncton" and "Picton," are on the way to this city where they will be changed to broad gauge and sent on to the Intercolonial Railway for which they were built. The cars are said to be the best ever brought East, having smoking rooms and a number of other improvements over other similar cars and, cost about $30,000 each.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE. The following notice appeared in the Boston Herald of Thursday:—

STOP THIEF.—Hired of Northend & Foster, a brown horse and Goddard style buggy, lined with brown cloth. Gilt mounted harness, letter B on the winkers. The above property was hired by Samuel Clark, who we learn is just out of prison for horse stealing. Whoever will give information where the property can be found will be suitably rewarded. Northend & Foster, 128 Dudley st, Boston Highlands.

A STOCKTON SCHOONER IN DISTRESS. The captain of the brig Ernestine of Portland, which arrived at Sagua, Cuba, July 6, states that on the 5th, when in lat. 25° 37', lon. 81° 03', spoke schooner Daybreak of Stockton, Capt. Gregory, forty-two days from New York for Wank's river, Nicaragua, with captain crazy, mate sick, and no navigator on board capable of sailing the vessel. When the Ernestine left her she was steering northeast.

THE POTATO BUSINESS is flat in this market, the price ranging from 40 cents down to 25 per bushel. But one year of the past fifteen has there been such a depression at this season, and dealers hope it may prove only temporary. The principal causes of the small demand for old potatoes in the New England markets have been the recent arrival of a large number of cargoes from Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia and the early period at which new potatoes came in plenty fully from the South.

NEW POSTAL CARDS The Post Office Department have, for some time, contemplated a radical change in the design and character of the postal card, and preparations are in progress which will insure the change during the present quarter. The design selected retains the vignette nearly as on the old card but the words "United States Postal Card" will be printed in plain letters, and there is to be no scroll work on the card. The direction, "Write the address only on this side—the message on the other," will be printed in white letters on the narrow border. The ink will be a handsome analine or black and the color of the card will probably be lighter. The new cards will be ready, probably, in September. Circulars will be sent to every Postmaster in the Union notifying him of the change, and to sell all old cards before ordering new, and the manufacturers intend to have 20,000,000 cards ready for the first rush of orders.

FIRE IN HAMPDEN. About one o'clock this morning the large barn on the farm of Capt. Charles Pierce in Hampden near E. & E. W. Blunt's mill and about two miles from the postoffice in this city, was found to be on fire and the flames had made such progress when discovered that it was impossible to save anything and the building and its contents were entirely destroyed. The barn was a fine structure and valued at about $2500, as the best of lumber was used in its construction.

A pair of valuable team horses, worth some $800; all their harnesses; one Alderney and two Jersey cows, valued at over $100 each, and a fine calf; about $400 worth of old and new hay; a mowing machine, horse-rakes, and a large lot of farming tools, etc.—all were destroyed in the barn. There was some insurance on the barn and some on the horses, but Capt. Pierce did not remember how much, as the policies were taken out some time ago.

The fire was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary, and Capt. Pierce suspects an old fellow who has lately been prowling about that neighborhood and sleeping in barns. The Captain turned him out of his hay-field several days since, [illegible] an hour before the fire was discovered, and the watchdog barked; but the Captain, after looking over the premises, found nobody, and went back to bed again, and was asleep when his hired man gave the alarm.

The fire was seen in this city, and a general alarm was given, which brought out the Department. No. 2 steamer went down on the run, followed by the Little Giant and No. 3 hand engine, but no water could be got, and none of the machines were worked except the Giant, which was taken up over the hill, and used to wet down a big pile of wood near the barn.

BANGOR POLICE COURT.
BEFORE JUDGE GOODENOW.

Friday, July 17th. State vs. John Gallagher; drunkenness; fined $5 and costs; paid.

Six boys belonging in this city were brought up by Constable Head of Brewer on charge of breaking glass in that town, but on payment of $8 to repair damages and the costs of court, they were discharged.

NEW MAGAZINES

LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE. The August number is adapted to the season; light and brilliant, yet containing much valuable information on numerous topics. Its installment of "The New Hyperion, by Edward Strahan, illustrated by Dore, manifests, as usual, a rich and rare quaintness of humor in the writer, and an apparently exhaustless sense of the grotesque and ludicrous on the part of the illustrator. A Tour in the China Seas, by Fannie R. Feudge, illustrated, is a pleasing and quite instructive description of places but little known to the general reader Malcolm, by George McDonald, assumes new attitudes and relationships, and the story, as it progresses, decidedly grows upon the reader. Roughing it in the Lebanon, by M. H. Beck, has a freshness about it, notwithstanding it goes over ground already very thoroughly trod. The Monthly Gossip of the number is delightfully vivacious; and the Poems Dante Praises Beatrice, a sonnet, by T. M. Coan, Love's Choice, by Kate Hillard; Phantasies, by Emma Lazarus, are all decidedly above the average of magazine poetry. It is, indeed, a charming number of this deservedly popular periodical. J. B. Lippincott & Co., publishers, Philadelphia.

OLD AND NEW. Among the topics in the August number that will receive the special attention of the reader are Mr. Hale's graceful and lively translation of the sweet old Provencal love-story of Aucassin and Nicolette, and Mr. Martineau's striking exposition of the contrasts between the Gospel of John and the preceding three. Mr. Tyrwhitt's art series continue; Mr. Trollope's novel goes forward with increasing interest, there is a queer story by Bishop Ferrette; a financial discussion in a review of Professor Sumner's work on the currency. There are other good reviews of books, some useful, sociological discussions; a terse political introduction, explaining what the Civil Service Reform has really done thus far. On the whole, the number is both spirited and entertaining. Roberts Brothers, publishers, Boston.

NEWS BREVITIES.

Many fatal cases of vomito have occurred recently in Havana and small pox is also raging.

Frank Jordan, aged 18, was killed in Providence, R. I, Thursday, in attempting to get on a moving train of cars

Charles Griffin of West Haverford, Conn, was drowned Thursday, in an attempt to get on an excursion boat.

Mrs. Barbara De Hart died in Harrisburg, Pa, on Thursday, aged 101 years and six months

A despatch from Lausanne, Switzerland, announces the death in that city of Rev. Mr Goodrich, a grandson of Noah Webster.

Rev. John S. Glendenning publishes a card stating that the charge against him by Miss Pomeroy of Jersey City is untrue.

Robert Bonner has contributed $1,000 toward building a boat house for Yale College at Saratoga Lake.

Immense clouds of grasshoppers were reported alighting Wednesday near Columbus, Nebraska, and doing some damage.

Mayor Kimball of Concord N. H, was thrown from his carriage Friday, and considerably injured about the head and shoulders.

Albert Grant, Liberal Conservative member of the House of Commons for Kidderminster, England, has been unseated for corrupt practices in his electoral canvass.

It is said the Brussels Congress on International Law after a formal opening and organization will appoint committees and suspend the general sittings.

A dastardly attempt to wreck and rob a paymaster's train on the New York Central Railroad, Thursday, was frustrated, but the would-be robbers escaped.

Two men named Bonlison and Rosain quarreled at Little Rock, Ark, on Thursday, when the former was stabbed and killed and latter was subsequently shot dead by some unknown party.

The Governments of Austria and Russia have agreed to open negotiations with the Sublime Porte looking to the recognition of the independence of Roumania by Turkey.

A man has been arrested in Philadelphia on suspicion of being a party in the Ross child-stealing affair. He was taken before the eldest son of Ross, but was not recognized.

A St. Paul (Minn.) despatch says that Gov. Davis received on Thursday a draft for $1,000 from Gerrit Smith for the relief of the grasshopper sufferers—one half to go to the relief of Iowa sufferers.

A hand-ball match was played in New York Thursday, between Aldermen James O'Brien and James Farron of Chicago, and Aldermen James Dunn and James Casey of Brooklyn, for $1,000. The score stood Chicago 74, Brooklyn 31 and the championship of America.

Sheriff Khue, who conducted the execution of Sid Wallace, the desperado, at Little Rock, Arkansas, last March, was shot and mortally wounded Thursday, by a person hid by the roadside. A companion named Banks was also wounded. One Robinson, a cousin of Wallace, has been arrested and identified as the murderer.

Parties connected with the Oriental Circus which performed at Nicholson, Pa., Monday night, abducted two girls named Robinson, aged 12 and 14 years. The father of the girls followed and came up with the Circus on Wednesday, only to learn that the men who had stolen the girls had been discharged and no one knew where they had gone.

The "enormous saving" to the Post Office Department in consequence of the repeal of the franking privilege, is good for that department but a little hard on the others. Thus the Post Office Department "saves" some two or three hundred thousand dollars in the postage of the mail matter of the Treasury Department, but the expenses of the Treasury Department have been increased by just that sum; so of fifty thousand dollars in the Department of State, and like amounts in the other Executive Departments. One branch of the Government pays another, leaving the aggregate appropriation about the same.—[Providence Journal.

DISTRIBUTION OF THE CURRENCY. The Attorney-General has decided that it is lawful to distribute such portion of the $354,000,000 as now remains unassigned and unissued, and also, such amounts of the $[illegible],000 as may be retired by redemption and distribution in accordance with the apportionment provided by the acts of March 3, 1865, and of July 12, 1870. He also decides that it will be lawful to redistribute the $55,000,000 of circulation authorized by the act of June 20, 1874, as applications are made therefor to any State having less than its proportion, until it shall receive its full apportionment as provided by that act; and he also decides that a National bank with a capital of $50,000 may now be organized, as heretofore, upon the deposit of $30,000 of bonds, and that National banks with a capital of not less than $150,000 may be organized, as heretofore, upon the deposit of one-third of their capital stock in United States bonds with the Treasurer of the United States.

THE BEST EVIDENCE.

The following letter from Rev E. S. Best, pastor M. E. Church Natick Mass., will be read with interest by many physicians Also those suffering from the same disease as afflicted the son of the Rev E S Best No person can doubt this testimony and there is no doubt about the curative powers of VEGETINE

NATICK, MASS, Jan 1, 1873

Mr H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir We have good reason for regarding your VEGETINE a medicine of the greatest value We feel assured that it has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age; for the last two years he has suffered from necrosis of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so far reduced that nearly all who saw him thought his recovery impossible. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his ever rallying, two of the number declaring that he was beyond the reach of human remedies, that even amputation could not save him, as he had not vigor enough to endure the operation. Just then we commenced giving him VEGETINE, and from that time to the present he has been continuously improving. He has lately resumed his studies, thrown away crutches and cane, and walks about cheerfully and strong.

Though there is still some discharge from the opening where his limb was lanced, we have the fullest confidence that in a little time he will be perfectly cured.

He has taken about three dozen bottles of VEGETINE, but lately uses but little, as he declares that he is too well to be taking medicine.

Respectfully yours
E S BEST
MRS L C F BEST

FURTHER PROOF.

CANCER CAN BE CURED

[illegible] VEGETINE [illegible] which it has [illegible] and no one [illegible] the testimonials from people right at home, where the VEGETINE is prepared and as the street, and numbers are given [illegible] possible doubt about the matter.

The following extraordinary cure of a Cancer, which had been pronounced beyond the reach of medicine by the best medical skill of New England, certainly merits the most profound attention of the medical fraternity, many of whom are now daily prescribing VEGETINE in New England, where it has already become firmly established, and is recognized by all classes of people to be the only reliable Blood Purifier

APPROVED STATEMENT.

CHARLESTOWN, Mass., March 14, 1869

Mr H. R STEVENS:

Dear Sir—In the year 1868 while residing at Portland, Me., I was afflicted with a Cancer on my nose, which made rapid progress All of the best physicians there were consulted, without any benefit. For a period of six years it continued to increase and extend, until it was invading my whole system. I suffered the most excruciating pains, until my nose was nearly gone, and I found it was approaching a fatal termination. Being burnt out of house and home by the great fire of 1866, I moved [illegible] I was induced to try the Indian Blood [illegible] suffering greatly, without [illegible] confidence in relief by any medicine, I [illegible] try it, and only those who have a similar suffering can realize my feelings when, after [illegible] found the open (sore commencing to heal) gaining confidence that the disease was being successfully combated by the VEGETINE, I took no other medicine, I faithfully continued its use, and in six months the cancer was healed and my health fully restored.

I am confident if I had used VEGETINE in the early stage of the disease, it would have arrested its progress and saved years of great suffering. I desire simply that others may be benefitted and attention called to its usefulness, and, in the interest of suffering humanity only, I cheerfully add my testimony to its entire success in my case; and, though I have lost nearly all of my nose, my face is entirely healed, and I enjoy good health. My husband joins with me in approving this statement.

MRS JOHN PATTERSON,
33 Everett street.

Fully concurring in the above
JOHN PATTERSON

The above statement is from one who was a great sufferer for many years trying many physicians and many remedies, and not finding relief until trying this remedy—VEGETINE. Does it not conclusively show the searching, cleansing, purifying and healing qualities of the VEGETINE? Have you any doubt about trying the VEGETINE for disease? If so, if you have, references can be given. [illegible] who have voluntarily given testimony [illegible]

VEGETINE, says a Boston physician, "has no equal as a blood purifier Hearing of its many wonderful cures after all other remedies had failed, I visited the laboratory and convinced myself of its genuine merit. It is prepared from barks, roots and herbs, each of which is highly effective, and they are compounded in such a manner as to produce astonishing results."

VEGETINE IS SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

A PASSING THOUGHT.

Scarce hours two mountain rills together flow and thus
Descend into the vale's cool shade, than with new force
Bear on through many climes, past mighty crags and dense
Great forests, gathering strength, until engulfed and lost
In ocean's arms and fond embrace. So in this world
Two lives may meet and join, heart knit to heart and soul to soul,
Melting the souls to one from faith, one steadfast hope
In God's omniscient love and when the Master calls,
Angels with loving touch cover the weary eyes,
Fold the quiet hands, and chain the feet to sleep,
Earth's cares, the joys and woes, grow dim and pass away.
The souls kept pure by Love the angels' welcome feel
And enter into life through heaven's gates of pearl.

FRUIT IN CALIFORNIA.—The fruit crop in California is very abundant this year, and for size, beauty of color, and delicious flavor will bear away the palm from anything produced in the temperate region. A million and a quarter pounds of strawberries have been already shipped from San Francisco this season. The value of the crop of berries has been estimated at two million dollars. The cherry culture is an especially profitable one. An acre of them, consisting of one hundred trees, will yield a crop worth one thousand dollars, at ten cents per pound. The fig and the olive are also abundant, and the grapevines could scarcely be surpassed for bounteous yield and richness of quality. Many of the vines are very profitable, paying from $400 to $2000 per acre

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PATENTS

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 76 State Street, opposite Kilby Street, Boston,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States, and in Great Britain, France, and other Foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents executed on reasonable terms, with despatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"In regard to Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their claims for patent in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure that they will have the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

APPLETON'S AMERICAN CYCLOPÆDIA

New Revised Edition.

Entirely rewritten by the ablest writers on every subject. Printed from new type and illustrated with Several Thousand Engravings and Maps

The work originally published under the title of The New American Cyclopædia was completed in 1863, since which time new circumstances which it was necessary to record in every part of the United States and in Europe have taken place in every branch of science, literature, and art, have rendered the publication of a new edition necessary, in order to furnish to the public the most thorough revision and complete history of these events. The progress of discovery in the Physical Sciences, the great wars and consequent revolutions that have occurred, involving national changes of political importance, the rise and fall of new commercial centres, with all the height which the last volumes of the old work record, and the development of new resources, have rendered a new supply both necessary and desirable. Great additions have been made to our geographical knowledge by the indefatigable explorers of Africa.

The great political revolutions of the last decade, and the rise of New Powers, have awakened an unusual public view in all the new men, whose names assume a national importance, and whose lives become a part of history. All the important political events of the time have been carefully noted, and the present condition of the various countries of the globe, as developed by the late census returns, has been given.

The work is now begun after long and careful preliminary labors, with the most ample resources for carrying it on to a successful termination.

Many of the original stereotype plates have been used, but every page has been printed on new type, forming in fact a new Cyclopædia, with the same plan and comprehensive scope as the original work, but differing in its composition as much as the recent editions of Webster's Dictionary differ from the original publication of 1828. The enlargement which has thus been effected in the present edition, have been added not for the sake of the mere addition, but to give greater flexibility and force to the illustration of the text, and to furnish the most complete view of the present state of human history, and depict the most advanced and recent ideas of the day. Revised, clear, and new as well as the various processes of stereotyping and printing can make it, the volumes are presented. Although intended for a permanent work of reference, the plan of this encyclopædia has been adapted to the wants of the people, and it will be found a convenient and valuable guide in the family, the counting-room, and the study, as well as in the public institutions of learning.

The illustrations which are introduced for the first time in the present edition, have been selected not for the sake of mere display, but to give greater flexibility and force to the explanations in the text, and thus furnish the most complete view of the present state of human history, and depict the most advanced and recent ideas of the day. Revised, clear, and new as well as the various processes of stereotyping and printing can make it, the volumes are presented. Pierce's Rheumatic Cure

A Tried and Sure Cure.

This remedy is the result of the research of one of the proprietors who had been a great sufferer for years, and who had tried all the advertised remedies and the skill of many physicians without obtaining relief. A radical cure was obtained, and numerous similar cures effected among his friends and acquaintances, rendering it a duty which he owes to his fellow men to put it before the public. It was not up without a thought of making it an article of merchandise, but the numerous and unsolicited testimonials for it, as its merits have become known, have induced him to advertise it for the benefit of sufferers like himself.

It is an infallible remedy, if persistently used, for Chronic Rheumatism in all its forms, Neuralgia, Sciatica, and Neuralgia, and Inflammation of the Kidneys. Also for Female Weakness, Irregularities, and Suppressions, and other painful derangements of the system. Also for Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Nervous Headache, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Fever and Ague, Malaria, Chills, and Fever, and all diseases arising from a disordered Liver, Stomach, or Blood.

It is purely vegetable, containing no mercury, or other mineral or poisonous drug, and may be taken by the most delicate person, or by the little child, with perfect safety. Full directions for use in all languages in every package.

Price $1.00 per bottle. Sold by druggists generally. If your druggist does not keep it, send to us and we will forward it by express, on receipt of price.

Pamphlets containing certificates of cures, and other information, sent free to any address.

INTERESTING CORRESPONDENCE.

T. S. LAMBERT, M. D.,

Dear Sir—Learning that you are to be in town for a day or two, we take this opportunity of asking you to address us and others upon the subjects to which you have given special attention, we mean—The Nature of Life, the Necessity, and Source of Longevity of Human Life, and particularly their application to Life Insurance."

Respectfully yours,

ASSEMBLY CHAMBER,
Albany, March 14th, 1874.

To Doctors Carpenter, Brewer, Buckley, Brewer, Stage, Bergmeil and Holden.

Gentlemen.—Nothing would please me more than to accept your invitation, but I am just now so pointedly engaged that I cannot at present spend time in Albany. If you will specify an evening a week or two hence, I shall and will very gladly reciprocate your politeness and do my best to entertain you upon the very interesting and exceedingly important subjects which you mention.

Very respectfully and truly yours,
T. S. LAMBERT, M. D

Albany, March 16th, 1874

In accordance with the foregoing correspondence, and also upon the invitation of the Insurance Committee of the Assembly of the Legislature of New York State, the Lecture, therein referred to, will be given on Wednesday evening, April 1st, in the Assembly Chamber.

(From the Albany Argus.)

DR LAMBERT UPON "HOMETRY."

The crowded state of our columns in yesterday's issue compelled us to defer notice of Dr. Lambert's address before the committee of the Legislature, on Wednesday evening. The house was crowded by an attentive audience including members of the medical fraternity, the bar and the clergy, and other professional men. The scope of the lecture was to present, in some of its leading principles and features, the subject of "Humetry," or the laws of hereditary descent, and the signs and indications of longevity, as a science, positive, predictable, and of very great value in its application in all the varied relations of life. He gave practical illustrations referring to strangers in the audience of the signs and indications of longevity—and stated very clearly and succinctly the laws and principles upon which the science rests. The practical facts collated by all, of hereditary taint noted, were shown to have relation to the inherent capabilities of living. These conditions can all be measured, and a judgment upon them by one who has become even ordinarily expert may be relied upon—especially in determining the proper premiums to be charged in insuring lives. Referring to the "experience" tables in use by the Insurance Companies, their disagreement with each other and their incompatibilities as assumed data were pointed out. It was urged that the only safe and just basis was found in following the teachings of Humetry, and rating each risk upon its own characteristics. The safety, as well as the equity, of this was shown in the fact, as an illustration, that in the company with which he is connected (the American Popular), which originated the plan, the death losses have been for the last year only between three and four per thousand persons, while those companies have lost as high as twenty-five, and many over ten per thousand—the varying rates of loss being in themselves proof of the unreliability of the tables, and of the general wrongs system of insuring all lives of the same age at the same rate. Life assurance, he said, is simply protection of the family in case of the death of its head, and its simple and common sense method is found in the payment, year by year, of the natural premium representing the mortality belonging properly to that year.—the "Term Life Increasing Premium,"—at low cost, without surplus, without "dividends," without speculation, without deception.

Dr. Lambert was appropriately introduced by Dr. Carpenter, of the Assembly; and entertained to three hours of close and highly entertaining attention.

No other company on the earth applies these principles, or gives the advantage of a lower rate of premium to those possessed of the natural inheritance of long life.

The only questions with them are: sound health and the general average mortality of a given age.

The AMERICAN POPULAR, by its gradation of risks, assures each according to the individual characteristics of the risk,

It fixes the premium rate accordingly without any special reference to the age

Its premiums are based therefore upon the actual risk of the individual, charging him only the cost of carrying his risk.

This is JUST, EQUITABLE and SAFE.

Eight years' experience has proved these facts.

LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Passed at the First Session of the Forty-third Congress.

[GENERAL NATURE.—No 41.]

AN ACT to facilitate the exportation of distilled spirits and amendatory of the acts in relation thereto.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That whenever the owner or owners of distilled spirits shall desire to withdraw the same from any distillery bonded warehouse for exportation under existing law, such owner or owners may set their spirits down for exporting as hereinbefore provided as now provided by law, give a transportation bond with sureties satisfactory to the collector of internal revenue, and under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, conditioned for the due delivery thereof on board ship as a part of exportation to be named therein; and in such case, on arrival of the spirits at the port of export, the exporter or owner at that port shall immediately notify the collector of the port of the fact, setting forth his intention to export the same, and the time of the vessel upon which the same are to be laden, and the port to which they are intended to be exported. He shall, after the quantity of spirits to be delivered by the gauger and inspector, file with the collector of the port an exportation entry verified by his oath or affirmation. He shall also give bond in the United States, with at least two sureties, satisfactory to the collector of customs, conditioned that the principal named in said bond will export the spirits as specified in said entry, or to some other port without the jurisdiction of the United States.

And upon the lading of such spirits, the collector of the port, after proper bonds for the exportation of the same have been given, shall, by the exporter or owner at his port of shipment thereof, shall transmit to the collector of internal revenue of the district from which the spirits were withdrawn for exportation, a clearance certificate and a detailed report of the gauger, which report shall show the capacity of the package, and the number of wine gallons thereof in wine gallons, proof-gallons, and taxable gallons. Upon receipt of the certificate and report, and the tax on the spirits, if not previously paid, the collector of internal revenue shall cancel the transportation bond. The bond required to be given by the master of a vessel for the delivery of the spirits here to be cancelled upon the presentation of such duplicate proof certificates that said distilled spirits have been landed at the port of destination named in the bill of lading or any other port without the jurisdiction of the United States, upon satisfactory proof that after shipment the same were lost at sea without fault or neglect of the owner or the person in charge.

SEC. 2. That on and after the first day of July, eighteen hundred and seventy-four the expense of the transportation of spirits, in tanks, casks, or other vessels containing distilled spirits for exportation, there shall be charged ten cents for each standa instead of twenty-five cents as now required by law.

Approved, June 8, 1874.

[GENERAL NATURE.—No. 42.]

AN ACT in reference to the operations of the shipping commissioners' act, approved June seventh, eighteen hundred and seventy-two.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That in case of the resignation of any commissioner, or his death, or his removal from office, the Secretary of State may appoint a commissioner to fill the vacancy thus occasioned, in either case, at the rate of seven hundred and fifty dollars a year; and also to allow, at his discretion, a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars for the outfit of any commissioner appointed at Shanghai, Yan Tsai Foochow, and Nagasaki, and to pay them salaries not to exceed, in either case, the rate of two thousand dollars a year; and to appoint interpreters to the consulates at Marseilles, Smyrna, Canton, and Hong-Kong, and to allow them salaries not exceeding, in either case, the rate of seven hundred and fifty dollars a year; and also to allow, at his discretion, a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars for the outfit of any year to any one consulate in China or Japan, respectively, not herein named, for expenses of interpretation; and the said section six of the said act is hereby repealed.

AN ACT to regulate the diplomatic and consular systems of the United States," approved August seventh, eighteen hundred and fifty-six, is hereby amended as follows:

SEC. 1. That the Secretary of State shall, as soon as practicable, establish and determine by localities the amount of fines actually necessary to make provision for a township, ward, city, or parish and consular post and the city of Washington, and the vessels and ports at which the same public. He may also, from time to time, as he may deem necessary, change such determination, and the purchase of lands and the erection of buildings, and the leasing, repairing of the same in such case the decision is to be in like manner made public. And the allowance for time actually employed in the discharge of official duties, and for
